YCSD announces food pick-up schedule

YOUNGSTOWN -- The Youngstown City School District will begin bagged breakfast and lunch pick up for scholars Thursday at 35 sites across the city.

Initially, the district planned to distribute food for scholars from school buses at bus stops. Because of safety regulations regarding time limits and temperature requirements for food distribution, however, that plan had to be modified.

“The care and education of our scholars is our top priority,” said CEO Justin Jennings. “That doesn’t stop because schools are shut down. We’re continuing to educate our scholars by providing work for them to do at home and we’re continuing to care for our scholars by distributing food.”

Throughout the closure, food will be distributed Mondays and Thursdays from buses. Families should be aware that some foods do contain allergens such as peanut butter. If a scholar receives special diet meals from YCSD, per doctor’s order, call 330-744-7194 and arrange pick up of special meals. Mondays and Thursdays are call and pick-up days for special meals at YCSD’s Central Kitchen, located in the back of Choffin Career and Technical Center, 200 E. Wood St. Call 330-744-6921 with questions about meal distribution.
